FINANCIAL REPORT 4

The summer is rolling along and we seem to be accomplishing most of the objectives that we had hoped to accomplish for the year. I think we have done some great things internally this year. I also like what I am hearing from Chief Williamson about external issues and contacts for next year.

Officers from GCSU recently performed a security detail for the Board of Regents meeting in Atlanta. It was the first time that campus police officers performed this duty. Hopefully, it will not be the last.

Our very own Chief Bruce Holmes of Clayton State is the point of contact for this detail and will be contacting us in the future to have representation from all the different universities and college law enforcement agencies.

One of our very own, Chief Ken Vance of GCSU was selected by Governor Purdue to be the next Director of POST. This is quite an accomplishment for campus law enforcement in the state of Georgia. Congratulations to Chief Vance on this well deserved honor.

Many from our organization have stepped forward to assume leadership roles in our state and nationally. Chief Golden (ABAC) being the first campus chief to be president of the GACP, Dwayne Orrick, current GACP President, began his career at the University of Georgia PD; Connie Sampson is Chair of a GACP Committee and Chief Doner (VSU) being a recent president of IACLEA come to mind as recent examples.

The three main purposes of our Association are to promote professional standards; promote professional development of all members and to represent campus law enforcement to all citizens. The success of these members demonstrates the quality of leadership throughout our organization. 33 years and going strong. Stay in touch.

Richard Goodson

TIDBITS

There is another Incident Command System (ICS) for University/College training course to be taught at Georgia State in December. If you attended the class at VSU, you know how good a class this really is.

I urge you to consider sending your managers.

- We have started to get the new GACLEA binders to the new GACLEA members. They each contain a copy of the bylaws, the constitution and the purpose of the association. If you have joined the organization in the last two years and have not received one, let me know.
- I think most members have received their new GACLEA lapel pins. If you have not received your pin, please contact me at the next GACLEA meeting to secure your pin.
- The GACLEA travel mugs are also in. They are a nice copper color with the GACLEA seal if you have not received your travel mug, please contact me at the next GACLEA meeting.

LEGISLATIVE ACTION

It seems that our action with Senator Chambliss and the other contacts that IACLEA had with our U.S. congressmen had the desired effect and helped to keep the congress from over-reacting to the Virginia Tech tragedy with cumbersome and unnecessary legislation. Now is the time to stay engaged.

We have developed some relationships and we need to continue to nurture these ties, so that when the next campus emergency happens, they will know who to turn to for realistic guidance. I know that Chief Williamson has already established some influential relationships to develop for the near future and that should pay dividends down the road.

I am very pleased that we are being proactive in this manner. As we all know, if we are not involved then others are going to make decisions for us and we will be forced to implement laws that are not in the best interests of campus law enforcement and campuses in general. By staying engaged we will ensure that legislation will be more of a help than a hindrance.

GCSU HOSTS GACLEA SKILLS FOR SURVIVAL IN CAMPUS LAW ENFORCEMENT CONFERENCE

The GACLEA SKILLS FOR SURVIVAL IN CAMPUS LAW ENFORCEMENT CONFERENCE was held on July 16th - July 18th. There were 36 attendees from 15 GACLEA schools represented at the conference hosted by Georgia College & State University in Milledgeville Georgia.
